

The world's most prestigious humanities and social science stages, and roughly when they happen, all year round.

HOW TO READ THIS:  OPEN OR REGISTRATION  A DEADLINE  FINAL, AWARDS OR SHOWCASE

THE YEAR AT A GLANCE

JAN FEB MAR APR MAY JUN JUL AUG SEP OCT NOV DEC

ESSAY & RESEARCH PRIZES

John Locke Institute Global Essay Prize

Philosophy, politics, economics, history, law

· Free, dinner self-funded

The Concord Review

Serious history research essays, published · $70 an essay

Marshall Society Essay Prize

Economics · University of Cambridge · Free

Oxbridge college essay prizes

Year 12 · many open to international students · Free

Harvard International Review Contest

Academic writing on world affairs · three cycles

· Small entry fee

WRITING & JOURNALISM

Bennington Young Writers Awards

Poetry, fiction and non-fiction · Free

New York Times student contests

Editorial, review and personal essays · Free

DEBATE & PUBLIC SPEAKING

World Schools Debating Championship

The world final of school debating

· via your national team

ESU International Public Speaking

National champions meet in London

· via your national win

International Public Policy Forum

Written and oral policy debate, in teams · Free by 15 Aug

EXPERIENCES & SHOWCASES

TED-Ed Student Talks

Give a TED style talk · run by Project Agora · Free

Please read: these dates are a general guide only, drawn from recent years, and they shift every cycle. Always confirm the current deadline, fee and eligibility on each organiser's own official website before you plan around it. Entry is free unless a fee is shown; some stages, such as the world debating and public speaking finals, are reached by winning a national round first and involve travel. Project Agora is an independent tutoring practice and is not affiliated with, nor endorsed by, any organisation listed here. TED-Ed Student Talks is a free, non-competitive showcase that we host for our own students.